WAREHOUSES ONLY WHERE NECESSARY

That the money required for the establishment of new warehouses for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association comes from the pockets of the farmers themselves and that none will be established where not absolutely needed for the interests of the general association were declared in a statement made by Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker in discussing the probability of adding to the Association's holdings by the acquisition of new receiving plants.

"Tobacco growers in asking for establishment of the new receiving plants," said director Barker, "should bear in mind that it is the money of the growers that pays for these houses and that the cost will come out of the farmers' tobacco. We desire to have a receiving plant at every point where it is necessary, but our members will not uphold us in any policy of establishing plants on any other basis than that."

"The members of the Association want us to proceed with as little cost as possible in the handling of their crops, they want necessary receiving plants and will approve them where such plants are required for the general good, but, judging from what a number already have said to me, they will not approve any general plan for the establishment of warehouses just because there are none in the counties which may want them, even, though these counties may grow considerable tobacco."

"The Burley Association owns now a large number of plants, in some places more than it needs, in others it has none and in some of these places it ought to have at least one. Where such plants may be necessary for properly extending the business of the Association they will be established, but not a plant will be established which the Association can get along without. Growers have already indicated that this sentiment exists practically unanimously among them, and it is the intention of this office to respect that sentiment, for the farmers will have to pay, after all, every dollar of the cost of such plants as are established."

President and General Manager James C. Stone confirmed the report that Scott county, which comprises one of the director districts of the Association, is to get one of the Lexington houses before the tobacco season of 1922 opens.

The Lexington house to be dismantled and moved to Georgetown has not been decided upon, as yet, President Stone said, but Director Barker will reach a decision and have the house moved in ample time for Scott county to have a receiving plant to handle the 1922 crop.

"Scott county grows between 8,000,000 and 10,000,000 pounds of tobacco," said President Stone, "and is entitled to a receiving plant. The growers of that county, her bankers and business men have been loyal to the Association, have worked hard for its success and their wishes deserve and will receive consideration."

Mr. Stone, who returned from West Virginia, where he spoke in the campaign to sign up that State, said interest was growing there in the co-operative movement, that that probably a thousand persons heard his address and that many signed contracts. County organizations are being formed in that territory.

Sale of the preferred stock in the warehousing corporations, in order to give all growers a chance to subscribe, will be continued until July 1, it was said at the offices of the Association. James C. Willson & Company, of Louisville, are handling the stock of the warehousing corporation except the central corporations, which is being sold through the Security Trust Company.

"I would not take $1,000 for what that wonderful Tanlac medicine has done for me," said Mrs. Mattie Lutes, of Lexington, Kentucky. Sold by all good druggists.

ASKS REDUCTION OF POSTAL RATES

Reduction of second-class postage rates, which were originally imposed as war takes, is proposed in a bill which has just been introduced in the house of representatives by Congressman M. Clyde Kelly, of Pennsylvania. The bill is intended to give relief to newspapers and magazines, which have made representations to Congress that the continuation of the high postal rates seriously effects the entire publishing industry.

The Kelly bill would repeal the last two of the four increases in postal rates which were made under the war revenue act of 1917. In a statement explaining the purpose of the bill, Mr. Kelly said the newspaper and magazine publishers of the country are in need of relief from this discriminatory war tax in order that the press may continue to function.

The proposed measure, Mr. Kelly explained, retains the present zone system of postal charges but reduces the postage from the amount provided under the fourth advance, effective July 1, 1921, to that of the second advance which became effective July 1, 1919. According to Mr. Kelly the rates asked for would still give the government 175 per cent. more than the pre-war rates and would not relieve the publishing industry of one cent of the other federal taxes paid by it in common with other industries.

"The present postage rates on newspapers and publications were fixed in the war revenue act passed in 1917, and are 325 per cent higher than the pre-war rates," said Mr. Kelly. "Every one of the items carried in that measure, with the exception of the tax on second class mail matter, has been modified or repealed."

"These war-time postage increases have driven millions of pounds of second class matter into private channels of distribution. There is something radically wrong when private companies can make a handsome profit at rates less than those charged in postage. I believe there is no good reason why the publishers of newspapers and magazines should be singled out to pay this extra war tax."

"The newspapers and other periodicals are the fountain source of first-class and fourth-class mail. They also perform an invaluable service in freely carrying messages of the postoffice and other departments of the government direct to the people. They are really selling agents for the government but they get no commission on their sales. It is a common sense policy to give advantageous rates in the mail. The fact that high rates are charged on the advertising pages does not lessen the injustice. Advertising is not merchandise, but information. The newspapers are information highways just as essential to the business prosperity of the country as the highways and waterways. Not a sale can be made or a pound of goods shipped without the interchange of information. The advertisements are chronicles of every advance in industrial achievement. Without them publication of the newspapers and magazines would be impossible."

Hearings will be had at an early date on the bill by the house committee on postoffice, to which the bill was referred.
